by MARIA DESIDERATA MONTANA posted on JANUARY 27, 2015

Did you know that on average, more than 20 million Americans get together for Super Bowl Sunday? You can spread the amount of guacamole consumed during the Super Bowl over one football field and it'd be nearly 11 feet deep.

Stats show fans spend at least a month preparing for parties at home. Skip the cooking and the clean up and check out our list of San Diego's favorite bars or restaurants to watch the Patriots take the Seahawks and, most importantly, eat!
