

10 Hottest Rooftop Restaurants & Bars in San Diego

By Darlene Horn | May 11, 2015

When it comes to enjoying our city's awesome year-round weather, we obviously have the beach. But rooftop restaurants and bars have a one-up on the sandy shores: there are amazing views stories above street level – a few are even by the ocean – along with a ton of top-notch food and drink options. Next time you want to take a break from the shore, here are the 10 hottest rooftop restaurants and bars to check out in San Diego.

Hello Betty Fish House

Found on the edges of San Diego County, this Oceanside restaurant specializes in beachworthy fare like seafood boils, shrimp cocktails and steamed clams. Once dinner is over, head up to the top of the restaurant for a selection of cocktails and beers on draft.

The view: Scenes from the Oceanside pier and Pacific Ocean.

What to order: Fried oyster tacos.

Insider tip: Access the roof via the stairwell located near the dune buggy.

211 Mission Ave., Oceanside; 760-722-1008